Germany's top scientists, doctors, and academics have sounded the alarm, issuing a joint red alert that the experimental Covid mRNA injections are fueling a global health catastrophe and driving a population implosion.

At a press conference in Berlin, nine leading experts called for an immediate halt to mRNA vaccinations, citing overwhelming evidence of excess mortality, rising disease rates, and collapsing birth rates tied directly to the rollout of the shots.

The panel of experts was supported by more than 200 doctors, scientists, lawyers, and health professionals.

"Today, we are issuing an urgent risk warning and calling for a moratorium on mRNA vaccines, an immediate halt, and an evidence-based reassessment," the group declared.

"The evidence for these demands exists on multiple levels.

"Epidemiologically, there are high correlations between vaccination and booster rates and an increase in excess mortality, disease rates, as well as a decline in birth rates."

As Slay News reported earlier, Canada has just published data revealing that the nation suffered its lowest birth rate in history in 2024, for the second year in a row.

Experts warn this is not a coincidence but a direct result of damage to fertility and immunity caused by the spike protein from mRNA "vaccines."

Yet governments, the World Health Organization (WHO), and pharmaceutical giants remain silent, doubling down on their push for mRNA-based vaccines for everything from the flu to RSV to future pandemics.

Critics argue that this is not simply a public health failure, but a globalist scheme to weaken populations, suppress fertility, and normalize genetic manipulation under the guise of "science."

The Call to Action

1

The German experts demanded an immediate moratorium on all mRNA injections and a full-scale, independent investigation into "vaccine" harms.

They also warned that without urgent action, humanity faces a looming demographic collapse that could destabilize entire nations within a single generation.

This is not just about Covid, however.

The panel warned that mRNA technology is being quietly expanded into food production, animal vaccines, and even fertility interventions.

The expansions to mRNA injections, such as self-replication technology, are giving biotech corporations and global elites unprecedented control over life itself.

Meanwhile, the birth rate collapse, excess mortality, and explosion of chronic disease are flashing red warning signs.

As the warnings continue to be ignored, the world is headed for a population crisis of historic proportions.
